EDITORS NOTE: The Scribe financial picture for the remainder of the school year shows an Evening Division allotment of $77.80, a $1,455.86 balance from the Student Council allotment and an estimated advertising income of $750. This totals, $2,283.66.

Expenses should be $1,473.35, if a four-page paper is issued each week until May 17. Expenses expected are: Printing, $1,050, commissions, $108; salaries, $175; engravings, $105; photography, $35; and miscellaneous expenses, $35.

If all things remain as they are, this would leave the Scribe with a net profit for the year of roughly $801.31.

Alumni Board Elected In Closed Ballot Vote

Student Council members, David Barr, Nicholas Panuzio, Bertram Siegel and Bette Weber, were elected to the Alumni Hall Board of Governors during a closed ballot vote at a Student Council meeting April 10. They will take office May 1.

Barr Differs With Wolff On Rushing

Opposite views on a unified rushing system are held by the Student Council president and the director of counselling, two recent Scribe interviews disclosed.

Council president David Barr asserted such a system would cause the fraternities to lose their individuality.

Dr. Wolff, on the other hand, thought it was "a good idea", basing his reasoning on two points. First it would make it easier for the Interfraternity Council to check rules and regulations during rushing. Secondly it would give students a great number of fraternities or sororities to choose from at one time. It would lessen the student's quandary over whether to pledge a certain fraternity or to wait and hope for a bid later in the year from another fraternity. Dr. Wolff also pointed out that if such a system was adopted it would be less upsetting to the student's campus routine.

While at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H., he said he had lived under a system of unified rushing for fraternities.

Dr. Wolff maintained that the question of unified rushing was not one of the basic problems facing fraternities today. He stressed that there are three issues of even greater importance: 1. Whether fraternities should be local or national, 2. Should fraternities be allowed to have houses, and 3. What type of discriminatory system should be allowed.

Israeli Editor To Speak Here

Mrs. Lea Ben Dor

A luncheon interview with Mrs. Lea Ben Dor, assistant editor of the Jerusalem Post, was held today in Marina Hall.

Tomorrow Mrs. Dor will address Prof. Harry Kendall's economic history class at 2 p. m. in F-100. She will point up coverage by the Israeli press of the Israel-Arab conflict. All students who are interested may attend this open class session.

Mrs. Ben Dor, who is the guest of the journalism department, is a graduate of the University of London and holds a B. S. degree in chemistry. Upon her arrival in Israel in 1933 she first worked in the Physical Chemistry department of the Weizmann Research Institute. Mrs. Ben Dor joined the staff of the "Jerusalem Post" in 1936 as an editorial writer and in 1945 she became the paper's feature editor. She assumed her present position with the paper in 1954.

Panuzio, Barr Fill City Hall's Highest Posts

by

Grace Chanovitt & Murray Pruess

Nick Panuzio, IFC president, Student Council, vice-president, and Sigma Lambda Chi president, yesterday added another honor to his long list of titles: Mayor of Bridgeport.

Panuzio won over Scribe columnist Bill Wright, by a scant eight votes. In all 628 votes were cast. In what was termed "the closest election in UB history", Nick edged Wright, Sam Goldberg, and Joe Schlacter in the race for top honors for tomorrow's Bridgeport Day.

In the election for President of the Common Council, Dave Barr swept in by more than 100 votes over his closest rival, Bernie Milove. In third and fourth place for this election were Ed Ramos and Ralph True respectively.

Aldermen elected were Bill Bartlett, Lorin Bresnyak, Judy Carr, Jerry Dunn, Don Lurie, Ruth Nodland, Lois Prentice, Murray Pruess, Louise Sabo, Bert Siegel and Gil Strunk.

The Political Relations Forum which organizes and conducts the election for "Bridgeport Day" and the participating members of the Day met in caucus to discuss the procedure and regulations to be followed during their tenures in office.

The elected students will discuss and pass ordinances on various civic matters such as seat control, overnight parking, rent control, budget control, the city school systems, registration of bicycle tags and other current issues. The issues to be discussed are presented to the participating students by the PRF and each individual will debate the bill he favors most.

Another result of the caucus was the appointment of officials to head various cooperating departments; fire department, board of education, health department, registrar of voters, tax collector, director of public works, city clerk and clerk of common pleas court and police department.

The agenda for the day will include council committee meetings, council debate, passage of ordinances, and student reports and talks by Councilmen Louis Gladstone and Prof. William T. DeSiero, faculty advisor to the PRF. Candidates for the office of Mayor were Sam Goldberg, Nicholas Panuzio, Joseph Schlacter and William Wright.

Candidates for President of Common Council were David Barr, Bernard Milove, Edward Ramus and Ralph True.

The election was highlighted by the introduction of a political party formed in an effort to place their members into office. Speeches in Alumni Hall Student Center, initialed matchbook covers, lollipops, napkins and posters were used by the various candidates in order to attract support.

Bridgeport Day is an annual affair which is designed to give the students a chance to observe and take part in the operation of the government of the city in order to better understand its functions.

The committee members of the PRF who were responsible for planning the affair included: Anatole Colbert and Hal Nevins, Co-chairmen, and Fred Fiorella.

Library Dedication Program Revealed

Dedication ceremonies for the $350,000 Carlson Library will take place next Thursday and Friday, President James H. Halsey announced. This will mark the first time the University has dedicated a building erected from funds contributed by a private source.

Scholar Missing For Yearly Affair

by Harry Nigro

There will be an empty chair at tomorrow night's Eighth Annual Scholars' Dinner. It belongs to one of the top ten scholars in the Freshman Class.

This young man came to the United States in 1950 from Communist-held Czechoslovakia and was happily greeted by his younger sister and father, who had been Ambassador to Iran for the free Czech government but was forced to flee his homeland when the Reds came into power in 1949. It was a happy reunion for this family and an end to fears and anxieties behind the Iron Curtain.

In the years that followed, he developed one driving ambition: to acquire a college education. He knew this task would not be easy because he had to overcome a great language barrier. His desire was temporarily detoured when Uncle Sam called him into the army.

Upon completion of a two-year tour of duty, he came to the University, tackling his language problem with renewed vigor.

On March 6, he received word to report to the Veterans' Hospital for a physical check-up on an illness contracted while in the service. He entered the hospital feeling good; nothing, he believed, was physically wrong. Nonetheless, he was put to bed.

March slid slowly by and he still remained in bed, realizing now that something was really wrong. It was during the last week in March that his father brought him the news that he had been invited to attend the Scholars' Dinner. But on Easter Sunday morning, April 1, Miroslav Schubert, immigrant and scholar, died of a kidney infection in the Veterans' Hospital at New Haven.

Top Ten Students Will Be Honored

by Grace Chanovitt

The top ten students of each class will be honored for their academic record at the eighth annual Scholars' Dinner tomorrow night.

Faculty members who hold membership in scholastic honor societies have been invited to attend. President Halsey will serve as master of ceremonies. E. M. Bigsbee, dean of the Junior College of Connecticut, will be the speaker. Dan Bigsbee's topic will be "Does Scholarship Pay?"

Students attending, in order of academic standing, will be, Seniors: Richard Chevalier, Bridgeport; Robert Noyt, Wilton; Michael Belmont, Saybrook; Geraldine Bennett, Fairfield; Robert Encke, Bridgeport; Joan Carlson, Fairfield; Emily Forte, Meriden; Diane Stuart, Bridgeport; Henry Geer, Bridgeport; Elizabeth Chornyak, Stratford; and Robert Stehle, Bridgeport.

Juniors: Marilyn Chase, Mass.; Judith Chellberg, Bristol; Robert D'Andrea, Bridgeport; David Barr, Stratford; Barbara Stohl, Fairfield; Barbara Collins, Stratford; Henry Cofek, Trumbull; Bette Weber, Yonkers; and William Drehs, New Haven.

In conjunction with the dedication, the annual meeting of New England college librarians will be held on campus, with other librarians coming from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

No classes will be held after 1:50 p. m. on Friday, but all students are required to attend the Convocation at the Klein Auditorium at 2:30 p. m. and credit will be given for this convocation and absences will receive regular class cuts, according to regulations and instructions for the Carlson Library dedication program Thursday and Friday April 26 and 27, released today by President Halsey's office.

Parking will be prohibited in the Engineering-Technology Building Parking Lot on Thursday and Friday, April 26 and 27. Park Place between Park Ave. and Myrtle Ave. will be roped off Friday for the afternoon exercises.

Members of the Student Council and other student leaders will serve as guides and provide information for visitors and guests, April 26 and 27. Alumni Hall and Library will be closed from 2 to 5 p. m. on Friday, April 27.

Many rooms on the second floor of the Tech Building will be used for meeting rooms for the visiting librarians. Mr. Southouse will give instructions for transferring classes to other rooms.

Car Pools should be organized by faculty and students in order to alleviate the parking problem in the vicinity of the Klein.

The exercises will commence on Thursday at 2 p. m. with registration in the Engineering-Technology Building until 3:30 p. m. The first general session will begin in the Carlson Auditorium with an explanation of the program by Lewis M. Ice, librarian and a welcome speech by President Halsey.

At 4 p. m., a tour of the Carlson Library will get underway and at its conclusion, at about 6 p. m., a social hour in the Sun Parlor, Stratfield Hotel will begin.

A banquet will then follow in the Ball Room, where Vice-President Henry W. Littlefield will preside. After the invocation by the Rev. Joseph A. Racioppi, Rector, Trinity Episcopal Church, dinner will be served.

Following the dinner, Alfred V. Bodine, chairman, Board of Trustees of the University, will introduce the distinguished visitors and guests; the A Cappella Choir, directed by W. Earl Sauerwein, will then sing a few selections.

President Halsey and Jasper McLevy, Mayor of Bridgeport, will extend greetings to the group and introduction of William and Philip Carlson will be presented by Isaac E. Schine, treasurer, Board of Trustees.

Mr. William S. Dix, librarian, Princeton University and John H. Ottemiller, associate librarian, Yale University will be introduced after which Mr. Dix will deliver an address on "The Fundamental Purpose of the College Library."

Friday's festivities will begin at 12:15 p. m. with a luncheon for participants and guests at the Stratfield Hotel with Ronald H. Moody, librarian, Northeastern University, presiding.

At 2:30 p. m., a convocation for all students will commence at the Klein. The program will begin with a prelude by Miss M. Louise Miller, organist; to be followed by an academic procession led by Marshal Dean Earle M. Bigsbee; the Star Spangled Banner; Invocation by Rabbi Albert L. Malin; Greetings by Ronald A. Malony.

Trumbullite Recalls Past

Publisher Dreamt 'Time' In Present Campus Dorm

by George Kolok

Henry Luce, publisher of Time, Life and Fortune, spent many hours discussing publication problems with Britton Hadden, co-founder of Time, in Trumbull Hall, according to the daughter of the former owner, Mrs. William T. Hincks.

Mrs. Mary H. Wilson, a member of the Board of Associates, said in a recent interview with the Scribe, that she recalled times the two publishers-to-be visited Trumbull Hall with her brother, John Hincks, who as an undergraduate at Yale lived with Britton Hadden. During weekends Hadden and Luce would accompany Hincks to the Park Place home.

"Life was never boring at Trumbull Hall", reminisced Mary H. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson, who lived in the home for 35 years also recalls, "There was always some sort of activity going on, either a party or a friend dropping in for a visit."

Mrs. Wilson's father, William T. Hincks, was a scholar who attracted many personalities to his home. Two well-known English authors, W. L. George and Gilbert Chesterton, visited the Hincks household.

An ardent advocator of women's right to vote, Mrs. Hincks was president of the Connecticut Suffrage Association. She once received a visit from a prominent suffragist, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw. Mrs. Hincks is also a member of the Board of Associates here at the University.

Trumbull Hall was built in 1868. The Hincks purchased the structure from the Bullard family in 1912. In 1947 the edifice was sold to the Triune Circle of Light Church. On August 15, 1949, the University purchased the building. At present there are 40 male students living at the dormitory along with Professor Sherman, residence hall counselor and his family.

CARLSON LIBRARY DEDICATION

vice-chairman; Raymond Hargraves, president of the Board of Associates; Dr. Helen M. Scurr, chairman, English Department; Chris M. Parris, president, Alumni Association; David Barr, president, Student Council; Julian A. Sohon, librarian, Bridgeport Public Library; and David A. Jonah, librarian, Brown University.

The student body will then be introduced to William and Philip Carlson with a selection by the A Cappella Choir to follow. The story of the building of the Carlson Library will then be told by Dr. Littlefield and the introduction of Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president, American Council on Education after which he will speak on "The Sure Steady Light."

The Convocation will close with the singing of "America the Beautiful" and Benediction by the Rev. Howard Orr.

Dedication exercises will begin promptly at 4 p. m. in front of the Library with Mr. Bodine presiding. An introduction of the architect, C. Wellington Walker and the contractors will be made by Dr. Littlefield. Sr. Hipolito Hidalgo de Caviedes, muralist, will also be presented.

Following, William and Philip Carlson will officially present the Library building to the University which will be accepted by Mr. Bodine. President Halsey will then give a dedication statement and Mayor McLevy will give greetings from the City of Bridgeport. Presentation of the keys will be made by Fred R. Carstensen, chairman, Board of Trustees Buildings and Grounds Committee to Lewis M. Ice, librarian.

Dedicatory remarks by Dr. Finis E. Engleman, commissioner, State Department of Education; Prayer of Dedication by the Rev. John F. McGough and Inspection Tour of Carlson Library will conclude the two-day festivities.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mrs. Virginia F. Volo, teacher in the Reading Laboratory, was the guest speaker during the Calf Pen Meadow School PTA meeting yesterday.

Reading techniques were demonstrated and suggestions given on improvement of children's reading habits. Mrs. Volo also discussed the controversial book "Why Johnny Can't Read." Following the talk a question and answer period was conducted.

The College of Nursing sponsored a card party at Alumni Hall on April 13. The proceeds of the event will help send two representatives to the National Association of Student Nurses Convention, which will take place in Chicago, May 4-6.

CHI ZETA RHO recently completed pledge week and as a result were blessed with new sisters Fran Crystal, Sandy Hineck and Millie Palima. Last Sunday, all the sisters attended an engagement party in Long Beach, New York. The lucky lovers were Lynne Shepps and Sam Bernstein.

Purple Monster Revived For Carlson Convo

The "Purple Monster" will go into service again a week from tomorrow, when it will run shuttle service to and from the Klein Memorial Auditorium for dedication services of the Carlson Library. This automotive antique has served many good years at the Arnold College and again for short runs from this college.

Dorm students and day-hops, who don't have transportation, can find this quite convenient to support this tribute to UB's greatest benefactors, William and Philip Carlson. You are further encouraged to attend through two additions to your "Convo" record, if you can make both the afternoon and evening sessions. The shuttle will start shuttling from Alumni Hall about 1 p. m.

Chem. major, Gary Adelson, of State Teachers College in the Empire State, found the secret to a mystical "Love Potion", which proved on UB frosh, Marilyn Feldman. It was successful to the point that she accepted his Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity pin. Another Southport dormite has bitten the dust.

Hey, Chico. . . Whaddya do on Sunday mornings? Chico: "Oh, anything from giving Cha-Cha lessons to pinning girls in front of Park Hall." This was the story of Senor Pena and Great Barrington, Mass. native, now a UB freshman, Betty Sweet. Chico, brother of DEB, gave his pin to Betty at 11:30 in the morning after attending church together.

Airman Cadet Joe Kropf made good use of his furlough in his home town of New Britain last week. The family of Rita DiViano announced their formal engagement at that time. Joe is stationed in Texas where he is undergoing pre-flight training. No date has been set for the ceremony.

"ARE YOU GOING TO THE WEDDINGS?" The Royal families of UB have set the date for the wedding of our own Gail "Grace" Berman and Arnie "Prince Cloudier" Miller on August 19. While back among the "Four Hundred" of the US, Lynn (Margaret, the Yodeler) Chick, will wed that influential young, Columbia Law student, Teddy (Shiftin' Clifton) Sternklar on July 21 of this year. Lynn's father has promised to play the "Missouri Waltz" on the piano as their wedding march.

A formal engagement party was held at Temple Emmanuel, Long Beach, L. I., last Sunday afternoon for Lynne Schepps and her fiance, Sam Bernstein. This terminated a two year friendship, which began when Lynne entered UB's hallowed grounds in 1954. Her sisters in the newly organized, Chi Zeta Rho, were well represented during the weekend.

Park Hall's "Clown Princess", Marion Tukey, isn't fooling about wearing the "goin' steady" ring of localite, Terry Pauley, a former UConn student. He must have really gone for the back-woods accent.

Marketing major, Sam Berardino of SPA, has knocked himself off the eligible roster by setting his nuptial notch with Joan Keeler for the ninth of June. You'll remember Sam of "Sitting Bull" fame during SPA Pledge Week.

Congratulations to all those who were successful in being elected to office during Bridgeport Day. The campaigning and electioneering that was inspired by party members and independents alike, was indeed a shot in the arm for the competitive spirit on this campus. Good job, well done.

Knights Lose Belated Opener to Rider 8-5

by Larry Babich

After seven weeks of practice and three cancellations the Purple Knights finally opened their 1956 season, but were setback by the Rider College Rough Riders by a 8-5 score at Seaside Park last Saturday. Their Monday game against the Red Stags of Fairfield University was postponed because of wet grounds.

With righthander Tommy Skudlarek going for the McKeonmen, the UBites found themselves leading 2-1 after four frames. Captain Lorin Bresnyak drove home the first of the two runs with a long sacrifice fly. The second score was counted for by Jerry McDougall who doubled and tallied on a single by Andy Gachi.

Skudlarek ran into trouble in the fifth as Rider tied the score thanks to timely hitting by Ed Burke and Bill Ritardi. In the seventh, due to wildness and poor fielding support, the door fell in for Skudlarek and Rider pounced on him for three more runs and a 6-3 lead before relief hurler Bob Sullivan came on the scene to end the inning. Of the six runs, only one was earned as Skudlarek gave up only four hits in six and two-thirds innings while fanning five and walking five.

Rider collected two more markers off Sullivan in the eighth to take control of the ball game as they lead by their eventual winning score of 8-5. Lefthander Bob Sveda hurled the ninth inning and struck out two men while holding the Rough Riders scoreless.

This afternoon at Seaside Park the Knights take on Newark of Rutgers in a rescheduled game and travel to East Orange, New Jersey on Saturday to play the Upsala College Vikings. In last season's meeting against the Newark ballclubs the McKeonmen came out the victor by a lopsided 29-5 score.

The Vikings form a much tougher foe for the Knights as they have a whole host of returning players. Leading the array for the ballclub who had their 17 game winning streak snapped by Springfield College are hurlers Bill Pollack and Bob Seaman. Both these hurlers own early season's victories over such New England powers as Williams College and Colby College. Coach Don Walker will probably start either one of hurlers with Steve Bradley as the catcher.

STAMFORD FLASH — Sophomore second-sacker, Steve Butkowski, warms up his throwing arm in practice as the hustling keystone kid is teamed with shortstop Charley Pike as UB's double play combo.

Trackmen Run Upsala In Season Starter

Walt Kondratovich's Track and Field team will open their 1956 season with a home dual meet against the Vikings from Upsala College this Saturday at Seaside Park.

Some outstanding lettermen are returning to bolster UB's cinder squad this season. Heading the list are record-breakers Stu Randall, Dick Cipriani and Dave Deep. Randall, the Knights greatest 100 yard dash men holds the school record which he set in 1954 with a time of :10.5. Cipriani and Deep were part of a relay team who along with Hans Schneider and James Halsey Jr. set the mile relay record at 3:47.5.

Other returning aces include Paul Henion, who is tops in the weight throwing department, Sam Bernstein and Joe Kraynak, UB's top milers for the past two years, Nick D'Aluisio and Dave Dooman, who both high jump and broad jump, and veteran miler "Cookie" Kushnick, who is in his fourth varsity season.

Among the top flight newcomers to come out for the squad are Jimmy Badami and Johnny Carr. After the Upsala meet, the Kaymen will travel to Rutherford, New Jersey for a dual meet with Fairleigh-Dickinson College on April 25.

IM Softball Action Opens Female League

by Ellie Persip

With Schiott Hall squeaking out an 11-10 victory over Chi Sigma Delta and the Combination Team edging out Theta Epsilon by a 5-1 count, the Women's Athletic Association opened their 1956 intra-mural softball season last week.

The WAA has scheduled games among the various sororities, dormitories and combination teams every Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Game time is scheduled for 3 p. m. and concludes at 5 p. m. with Barnum Field as the playing grounds.

Besides the four teams which opened the season with the doubleheader, three other teams are listed as Pi Omicron Upsilon, Chi Zeta Rho and Wistaria Hall have entered ball clubs in the league.

Trophies for participation and victory will be awarded by the WAA at their banquet in May.

Brown Hurls One-Hitter As Freshmen Top Yale 4-3

With Pete Brown hurling one-hit ball, the Purple Knight yearlings set back the Yale Bulldogs for their second straight victory of the season.

UB, never beaten since the series began in 1955, when the freshmen nine of that year topped the Bulldogs 4-2, was in trouble from the outset of the contest. The Ivy Leaguers scored three quick runs off Brown in the first inning, as the lanky righthander walked four, hit a batter and along with an error paved the way for the three scores.

In the bottom of the third, Yale hurler Bill Whipple was replaced by Arnie Pflug and UB proceeded to tie the score. Vandy Kirk singled to left center scoring rightfielder Pete DeGregorio who had walked. Tracey Smith and Marv Lapidus followed with walks but Brown and third baseman Warren Weisheit followed with outs, with Kirk being forced at the plate, while Smith scored on the second out thanks to an error. Lapidus advanced to third and scored on a beautiful squeeze bunt by left fielder Ed Wakim.

Brown kept the Eli in tack as his fast ball was hopping and his curve breaking. In the bottom of the fifth inning the Sacconemen started to move. Wakim singled to left and promptly stole second and came all the way around to score as Yale catcher Bill Wall fired the ball past shortstop Tony Morales and on into center field.

This gave the 6-6 righthander a 4-3 lead which he kept and breezed the rest of the way home with the victory. Carrying a no-hitter into the seventh and final frame, outfielder Dick Wlels spoiled his bid with a single past shortstop. Brown on the whole pitched a solid game after the first inning and ended up fanning 13 Ivy Leaguers.

Alpha to Zeta

by Don Lurie

Tomorrow night, the brothers of SIGMA OMICRON SIGMA will present "Make Mine Music", the farewell fraternity dance of the academic year. This is the last opportunity for all you "Johnny come latelies" to hop on the music bandwagon and date your dancing dolls. Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the athlete of the year award to —? Well, why don't you just come and find out for yourself? Don't forget: — what: — "Make Mine Music" — where: — Glorieta Manor — when: — tomorrow night — who: — you and any gal who isn't ashamed to be seen with you — why: — to have a great time of course.

The brothers of UPSILON BETA SIGMA are taking it in the arm—Frankie style—after staging a successful party at Maurice Bennett's house in Stamford last week. They are now planning a variety of blasts to end the semester flying high — Bon Voyage, fellas.

The management of that tremendous Bock beer establishment, Max's, recently presented their annual best customer awards. The two suave fraternities on campus, ALPHA GAMMA PHI and SIGMA PHI ALPHA, finished in a dead heat for the first honors. This was actually due to their combined efforts last Saturday night. SPA had an attendance of 20 couples and were so anxious to leave that they simultaneously departed with the closing of the joint. Not to have AGP outdone, they also took full advantage of the situation while singing their theme, "There's nothing like German beer and American women."

After their sponsored convocation last Tuesday, PI OMEGA CHI held a luncheon at the Hitching Post in honor of their guest speaker, Albert J. Rushing, assistant head of the Connecticut FBI.

The brothers should be quite proud of placing four men on the varsity baseball team: Don Rantin, Walt Welker, Norm Schimmelmann and Bill Devine. This, by the way, is the largest representation of any fraternity. The brothers will again, this year, offer the David Dugen Memorial Softball Trophy for the winner in the Intramural Softball tournament.

In the March 15 issue of the Scribe, I quite unconsciously made a serious blunder by mentioning KAPPA BETA RHO immediately preceding a blast on other fraternities for holding closed functions on DELTA EPSILON BETA's dance date. I humbly apologize to the brothers of KBR and anyone else who misinterpreted my intentions (my mistake, but after all, that's why they put erasers on pencils—that I forgot to use).

Bill Kresge, an alumnus of THETA SIGMA, recently returned from Augsburg, Germany with his wife and is presently at Fort Dix awaiting discharge from the United States Army. Bill expects to enroll as a full time student at UB next semester and intends to again become an active member of the fraternity.

Tonight, the brothers will sponsor, participate and drown themselves in a beer party at the Peter Pan Restaurant.

The sisters of CHI SIGMA DELTA were quite thrilled earlier this week when the entire sorority got pinned. Unfortunately, they were sorority pins, although quite novel at that with three Greek letters in pearl. Rambunctious Jan Fine is finally pinned.

SIGMA LAMBDA CHI is looking forward to their joint beer party with SOS tonight. The fraternities have ordered 20 kegs of beer as an entree. (a mere drop of the bucket). Congratulations to Bert Siegel, Nick Panuzio and Howie Bader on their recent steady pacts with Myrna Freed, June Bartram and Eva Bernstein (thanks for the scoop boys).

This weekend will find a certain political bachelor of Student Council fame, courting a new breed of females.

Final Point Plan Goes to Officials

A finalized activities point system is now in the hands of University officials for consideration.

The proposed plan is the result of meetings held during March with student campus leaders, faculty members and administration officials Floyd Brewer, Peter Baldwin, and Mrs. Marion Lunn.

The plan will serve as a guide to help students achieve a proper balance between studies and extracurricular activities. Points will be assigned to each campus position, or example, five points for the president of the Student Council, four points for a president of a fraternity or sorority, and so on down to one point for membership in organizations.

If adopted, the plan will operate in connection with registration. A student passing through the line will fill out an activities information blank on which the number of his activity points will be calculated. This information blank will be shown to his advisor. The advisor will then discuss with the student his projected plans for extracurricular participation.

According to Brewer, a range of eight to twelve points will be considered an average load.

A time saving advantage of this plan is that one form will take the place of three because the Student Activities office plans to join with the Wistarian staff and the Public Relations office on using one form.
